Genealogy Garage:
Introduction to Mexican Research

Celebrate National Hispanic Month with John Schmal, an expert on researching in Mexico. John is an historian, genealogist, and lecturer. He has degrees in History (Loyola-Marymount University) and Geography (St. Cloud State University) and is a board member of the Society of Hispanic Historical Ancestral Research (SHHAR). If you have Mexican ancestry, this is a "must attend!"

WHEN: Saturday, October 20, 2018 • 11 am – 12:30 pm

WHERE: Los Angeles Public Library (LAPL), Central Library
The Adult Literacy Center on Level 1: The "ERTC" Room
630 W. 5th St., Los Angeles, CA 90071

Genealogy Garage is offered on the third Saturday of each month, from 11 am-12:30 pm, except the month of December. Workshops assist family researchers at all levels of expertise. This is an opportunity to "tune-up" your current research skills or learn something new about family history research.

Genealogy Garage is designed to be interactive, so bring your questions! Other items to bring: pedigree charts, family group sheets, pens/pencils, paper, and/or your laptop computer.
To RSVP: In person or call the Central Library: 213-228-7000, and ask for the History & Genealogy Department. Make a reservation for the Genealogy Garage workshop on [give the specific date]. Give your name and an email address or phone number so you can be notified in case the workshop is cancelled.
