

Exploring Jalisco's Indigenous People: Past and Present

A Lecture by John P. Schmal

WHEN: Saturday, December 5, 2020 – 1: P.M.

WHERE: An Online Presentation through the Los Angeles FamilySearch Library

The Lecture: This is a lecture to help people learn about the wonderful diversity of Jalisco's original inhabitants. Using a PowerPoint presentation, genealogist and historian John Schmal will discuss the languages and the history of the Indigenous peoples who lived in Jalisco during the Sixteenth Century. He will also discuss the Indian revolts of the Nineteenth Century and show Jalisco's recent census data relating to indigenous languages.

About the Lecturer: A graduate of Loyola-Marymount University, John P. Schmal is an historian, genealogist and lecturer, specializing in Mexican genealogy. He is the coauthor of The Indigenous Roots of a Mexican-American Family and Mexican-American Genealogical Research: Following the Paper Trail to Mexico. He is a lifetime honorary member of GSHA-SC and a board member of the Society of Hispanic Historical and Ancestral Research (SHHAR). John is a recipient of the 2018 Conference of California Historical Societies Award of Merit in the Scholarship Award. He was recognized for his "proliferate historic studies in the area of Mexican, Mexican-American and indigenous research.

How Do I Access The Meeting?: Please go to the website, LAFSL.org. Next, go to the tab, "Online Class Registration and Schedule." You will see a calendar with each of the December classes and a Zoom link on that date. Clicking on that link will take you to the registration page where you register using your email. You will then receive an email confirming your registration.

Please consult the following website for John Schmal's articles and presentations on Indigenous Mexico:

<https://indigenoumexico.org/>